We at the School of Law try to inculcate and cultivate the right professional virtues with strong analytical skills and encourage our students to pursue excellence

Law has become indispensable in every facet of human life and endeavor. India as a buoyant economy is reinventing itself to find its rightful place as a global leader in an ever changing legal environment which requires speedy justice delivery system and ease of business by ensuring legal compliances. Legal professionals have a notable role to play in ensuring speedy justice and attempting to identify and provide solutions to these emerging issues. Increasing awareness among citizens about their rights has further augmented the need for quality legal professionals. The School of Law MIT-WPU offers programmes such as Five-Year BA LLB and BBA LLB programme, Three-Year LLB Programme, One-Year LLM programme and PhD in Law.

We at the School of Law try to inculcate and cultivate the right professional virtues with strong analytical skills and encourage our students to pursue excellence so that they can effectively respond and contribute to the ever changing legal dynamics in the nation and across the globe. Our focus is on providing quality academic and employment-focused education which would help our students to achieve the desired success and excel in the legal profession. Our highly qualified faculty members in their respective fields of expertise are committed to nurturing, encouraging and enriching our students and helping them to widen their horizon of learning throughout their academic journey. Apart from being excellent in their academic delivery, our faculty members have published quality research papers in books and national and international journals.

Our knowledge partners are expert professionals from the judiciary, academia, leading law firms, and corporates in the country and across the globe who with their vast experience add flavor to the curriculum of the School of Law designed to meet the needs of the contemporary legal world. The academic learning in the classroom is complemented by Guest lectures, Seminars, Webinars, Workshops and Conferences conducted and delivered by distinguished luminaries from academia, corporates, law firms and the bar and bench. We actively involve our students in organizing these events which besides being an avenue for introducing our students to the legal world provide them with rich experience and inculcate in them versatile qualities such as leadership and team spirit. We attempt to refine our students by engaging them in co-curricular and extra-curricular activities such as Moots, Debates, MUN, Sports and Cultural activities and encourage them to render service to the community by participating in Legal Aid activities. The MIT WPU Law School with the state-of-the-art infrastructure, well-equipped library, online databases, Moot Court Room, Auditorium, Seminar Hall, cater to the wide-ranging learning needs of our students.

We at MIT-WPU School of Law through our Rural, National and International Immersion programmes sensitize our students to the needs of the society on one hand and provide exposure to a new world of language, society, culture, lifestyle, and human values within the country and across the globe. Internships at the School of Law provide a perfect platform to refine the competency of our students and enhance their problem-solving ability besides preparing them for the industry. Internship is therefore knitted into the curriculum and forms an integral part of the student's academic progression. The students are provided with placements sourced through faculty and institutional contacts and with a consistent interface with the legal fraternity. We are proud of the achievements of our alumni and are constantly striving hard and aspire to prepare highly successful legal professionals who would be able to achieve their goals with utmost sincerity and integrity upholding the ideals of the legal profession and thereby contributing to the process of nation-building.

Yours Sincerely,

Dr. Sunil George

Moot Court

MIT World Peace University, Pune, Bharat (India), lays strong emphasis on nurturing young minds through innovative initiatives. This approach goes beyond traditional academic subjects, focusing on developing research skills and fostering a commitment to lifelong learning. MIT-WPU recognises the pivotal role of Moot Court competitions in legal education. These competitions provide students with a unique platform to cultivate advocacy skills, enhance public speaking abilities, and engage in in-depth legal analysis across various domains of law. They serve as a valuable opportunity for students to refine both their written and oral argument advocacy skills within the competitive legal landscape. To support this educational endeavour, MIT-WPU School of Law is equipped with a cutting-edge Moot Court Hall that replicates authentic judicial settings and incorporates advanced technology. This facility is designed to aid students in their practice, preparation, and presentations for moot court competitions, ensuring a comprehensive and effective learning experience.

Free Legal Aid Centre

The establishment of a Legal Aid Clinic at the School of Law, MIT World Peace University in Pune, holds profound significance in advancing the cause of social justice and providing invaluable support to those in need. This initiative underscores the university's unwavering commitment to fostering a comprehensive educational environment that goes beyond academics, promoting legal empowerment. By offering pro bono legal advice, guidance, and representation to students who lack access to traditional legal services, the clinic serves as a beacon of hope for marginalised communities. It ensures that their rights are upheld and their voices are heard, championing the cause of justice for all. This endeavour aligns seamlessly with the university's ethos of nurturing responsible global citizens who recognise the vital importance of equitable access to legal resources. Through its Legal Aid Clinic, the university not only imparts practical legal knowledge to its students but also embodies the principles of compassion and social responsibility. In doing so, it makes a substantial contribution towards creating a more just and inclusive society.

Ph.D. in Law

- ◆ The Doctorate in Law programme at MIT-WPU is a rigorously research-centric endeavour, offering students access to exceptional resources and expert guidance to underpin their research pursuits. Tailored for postgraduate students, this programme is meticulously crafted to cultivate research acumen and prepare students for careers in academia or research. A core feature of the programme is its specialised training in essential research components, encompassing analytical identification of substantive or procedural laws, hypothesis formulation, research question development, literature review, research ethics, and the adept use of online tools and resources. This programme lays emphasis on interdisciplinary research, encouraging students to explore innovative and entrepreneurial ideas within their chosen fields of study. Students are guided in the selection of pertinent research topics and guided through the systematic development of their theses, typically spanning 40,000 to 50,000 words.

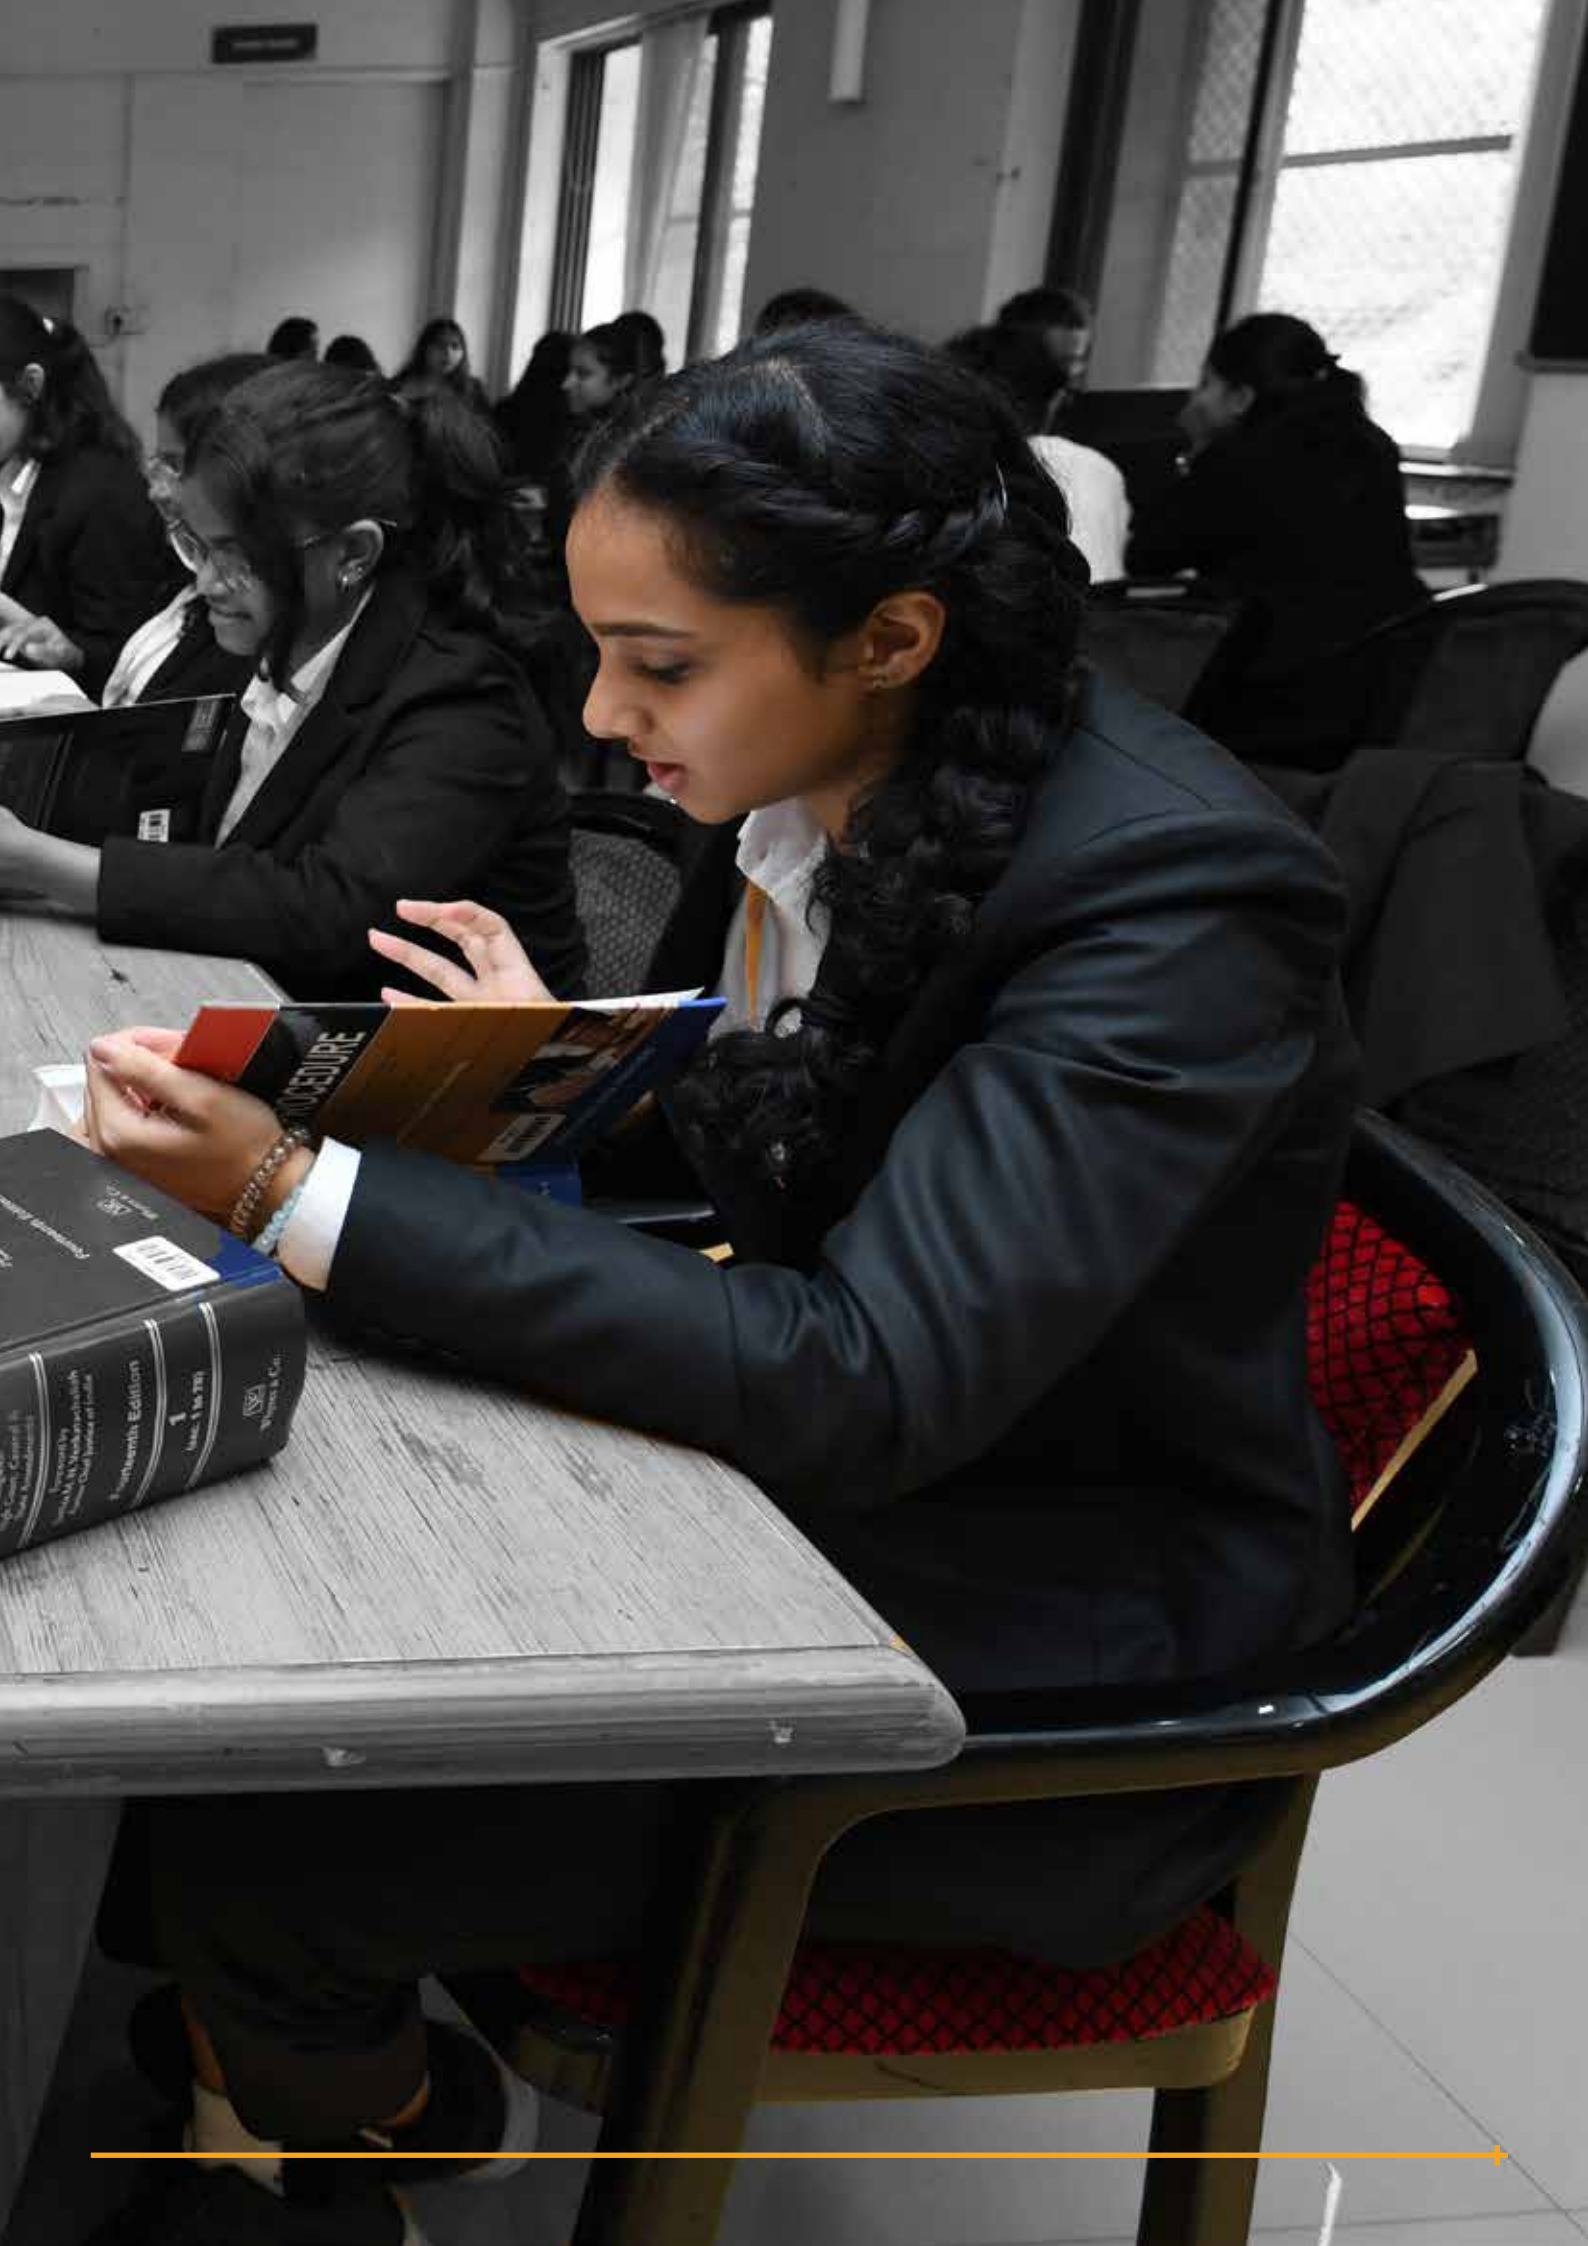

Student progress is assessed at regular intervals to ensure scholarly excellence. Moreover, students are encouraged to disseminate their research findings by publishing papers in reputable journals, benefitting from the expertise of faculty members with extensive research experience. During the initial six months, common courses are offered to help students fortify their scientific aptitude and optimise their research outputs. The Ph.D. in Law programme also facilitates the establishment of valuable researcher networks and supports the formulation and successful execution of Ph.D. project plans. It aims to endow students with a broad foundation of knowledge and expertise to pave the way for their future careers.

Events

◆ International Symposium on Law & Peace (ISLP)

The International Symposium on Law & Peace (ISLP) aims to become one of the brightest beacons to herald peace and harmony through the prism of law. The ISLP seeks to establish a common platform for legal professionals, youth, policy planners, thinkers, and the global community at large. This platform serves as a space for dialogue, open discussions, and deliberations, where participants can collaboratively recommend measures to address conflict resolution through peace-building processes. The overarching goal is to foster a culture of peace and harmony in our digitally dynamic and complex society.

The ISLP is a distinctive arena for non-political and non-aligned discourse among judges, lawyers, jurists, adjudicators, legal advisors, mediators, academicians, policymakers, social observers, industry professionals, youth, and society as a whole. Here, they convene to exchange perspectives and share best practices, all centred on the promotion of ethical and spirited leadership and the advancement of sustainable peace and development through the realms of law and justice. Law, as a pivotal force, plays a critical role in constructing peace processes by resolving disputes and addressing underlying conflicts.

The Symposium's purpose is to provide a collaborative platform for exploring various measures, dimensions, and pathways related to the role of law in nurturing a culture of peace. Given the ever-evolving landscape of law and society, ISLP strives to initiate dialogues on socio-legal issues that resonate globally and to promote the processes of peace-building. The theme of the Symposium revolves around focusing the lens of law on the dissemination and promotion of peace in a global context. It does so by instigating open discussions and deliberations, with the ultimate aim of raising awareness about the interplay between law and peace-building processes, while addressing the myriad challenges and issues confronting our global society.

Peace Studies: Fostering Holistic Growth

Understanding the importance of inner and social peace and conflict management skills is crucial in today's world. MIT World Peace University has adopted UNESCO's core vision of 'Building Peace in the Minds of Young Men and Women' as its guiding ethos.

The university offers a mandatory course of peace studies that lays the foundation for spiritual peace and harmony. It explores new ideas and practices from various cultures to tackle the challenges of global peace and sustainable development. The university also plans to introduce an advanced postgraduate degree programme in Peacebuilding and Conflict Management that offers state-of-the-art learning opportunities to study traditional and contemporary pedagogies of peacebuilding and conflict management.

The main objective of this course is to prepare students to become agents of social change and genuine global citizens. It trains them in non-violent communication to promote peace and prevent violence in communities and workplaces. Furthermore, the peace studies module also acquaints students with diverse yoga practices that enrich their cognitive prowess and information base, refining critical thinking and enhancing their overall personality. This interdisciplinary course, developed with input from scholars and practitioners worldwide, helps students build knowledge of India's spiritual and cultural ethos. Additionally, the course covers essential conflict management knowledge and skills that are in high demand in today's corporations.
